Head of the family :Male/Female

Females are excellent creatures. They can deal with so many complicated activities simultaneously. As they are expected to be good wives, they also have to be working women at the same time. Because of the economic crisis, most women can't just stay at home taking care of their children or any housework. They, as well as men, have to earn their living.

I absolutely agree that females can be the head of the family since nowadays, males believe in females. Moreover, females are accepted and admired for their wisdom and concern. However, I disagree that females should act as a boss of the family. They should be a facilitator, helper or guide families.
